About the National Partnership

For 55 years, the National Partnership for Women & Families has shaped policy, built coalitions, and improved the lives of millions.

We are a nonprofit, nonpartisan advocacy organization dedicated to advancing workplace fairness, reproductive rights, access to affordable health care, and policies that help people balance work and family. Founded in 1971 as the Women's Legal Defense Fund, the National Partnership continues to champion health and economic justice, reproductive freedom, and gender equity when this work is more critical than ever.
